	YES	CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT CONCERNING THE RIGHT TO VOTE FOR CERTAIN PERSONS Shall the amendment of Article II, Section I, paragraph 6 of the Constitution, agreed to by the Legislature, revising the current constitutional language concerning denial of the right to vote by deleting the phrase “idiot or insane person” and providing instead that a “person who has been adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction to lack the capacity to understand the act of voting” shall not enjoy the right of suffrage, be adopted?
	NO	INTERPRETIVE STATEMENT Approval of this amendment concerning the denial of the right to vote would delete the phrase “idiot or insane person” and replace that phrase with “person who has been adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction to lack the capacity to understand the act of voting” in describing those persons who shall be denied the right to vote. The phrase “idiot or insane person” is outdated, vague, offensive to many, and may be subject to misinterpretation. This constitutional amendment acknowledges that individuals with cognitive or emotional disabilities may otherwise be capable of making decisions in the voting booth and that their right of self-determination should be respected and protected in this regard. The amendment only denies the right of suffrage to those individuals determined by a court, on a case-by-case basis, to lack the capacity to understand the act of voting.

9

This concurrent resolution proposes a constitutional amendment to revise current language in the New Jersey State Constitution concerning denial of the right to vote. The proposed amendment deletes the phrase “idiot or insane person” and replaces it with the phrase “person who has been adjudicated by a court of competent jurisdiction to lack the capacity to understand the act of voting” with respect to the denial of the right of suffrage.

16

The phrase “idiot or insane person” is outdated, vague, offensive to many, and may be subject to misinterpretation. This constitutional amendment acknowledges that individuals with cognitive or emotional disabilities may otherwise be quite capable of making decisions in the voting booth, and only denies the right of suffrage to those individuals determined by a court, on a case-by-case basis, to lack the capacity to understand the act of voting.

23

This concurrent resolution is a companion bill to Senate Bill No. 2476 of 2007, which amends N.J.S.A.19:4-1 concerning the requirements for voting in New Jersey. The statute contains the same language as the Constitution with respect to disqualifying a person “who is an idiot or insane,” and Senate Bill No. , therefore, would revise the language in the statute to be consistent with that of the proposed constitutional amendment.
