This bill requires a public utility employee to immediately place a 9-1-1 call to report an emergency which results from or is associated with work performed by a public utility employee.

The bill also requires a public utility to implement a program to ensure its employees are trained as to matters, which include, but are not limited to: (1) the roles, responsibilities, and anticipated sequence of actions for all of its emergency response personnel; (2) locating natural gas pipelines and identifying natural gas leaks; and (3) the importance of local emergency response assistance. Under the bill, “public utility employee” means any person who works on behalf of a public utility.

The New Jersey Board of Public Utilities is to impose a fine for a violation of the bill’s provisions in the amount of $5,000 for the first offense, $10,000 for the second offense, and $20,000 for the third and each subsequent offense. Any fine imposed pursuant to the bill’s provisions is not to be recoverable by a public utility in a base rate case.
