2. (New Section) When the department determines that a Sandy-impacted homeowner has received an over-disbursement of RREM or LMI funds during the closeout process, the department shall provide the Sandy-impacted homeowner with a "Notice of Over-Disbursement." The notice shall be included in the Final Grant Reconciliation Document provided during closeout and detail the source, type, and amount of over-disbursement, including a line-item accounting of all Community Development Block Grant-Disaster Recovery funds disbursed to the Sandy-impacted homeowner, the program through which the funds were disbursed, and the purpose of each disbursement. The notice shall also contain an explanation of a Sandy-impacted homeowner's rights, including all rights established in , c. (C.) (pending before the Legislature as this bill), P.L. information on how a Sandy-impacted homeowner may appeal the department's determination, information on options for the repayment of the debt, and information on any interest and penalties that may accrue if the debt is not paid within the period permitted pursuant to section 4 of P.L., c. (C.) (pending before the Legislature as this Within 60 days of receipt of the notice, a Sandy-impacted homeowner shall notify the department whether they will satisfy the debt in one lump sum or will request a compromise or payment plan. However, if a Sandy-impacted homeowner files an appeal of an overdisbursement determination within the time frame permitted under section 5 of P.L., c. (C.) (pending before the Legislature as this bill), that Sandy-impacted homeowner shall notify the department whether they will satisfy the debt in one lump sum, will request a payment plan or appeal the over-disbursement determination. The notice also shall include a debt repayment form and instructions regarding the payment of the debt. The department shall provide written notice to a Sandy-impacted homeowner that their payment has been received and has been applied to satisfy the debt.

- 3. (New Section) a. The department shall provide a payment plan allowing all Sandy-impacted homeowners to repay any over-disbursement debt either in lump-sum or in 60 months paying as much or as little as they choose per month over the course of the repayment period until the debt is satisfied. At the end of 60 months, any remaining debt will be transferred to the Division of Revenue and Enterprise Services in the Department of Treasury.
- b. After the payment plan is determined, the department shall mail a payment plan agreement offer letter and promissory note to the Sandy-impacted homeowner. The Sandy-impacted homeowner shall return the signed and dated promissory note to the department within 30 days of receipt. If a Sandy-impacted homeowner fails to return the signed and dated promissory note, the department shall mail the Sandy-impacted homeowner a letter of intent notifying the Sandy-impacted homeowner that their case will be transferred to the Division of Revenue and Enterprise Services in the Department of the Treasury and notifying the Sandy-impacted homeowner of the consequences of a failure to pay the over-disbursement debt. The payment plan shall be offered to all Sandy-impacted homeowners who owe a debt of over-disbursement. No payment plan agreement shall require specified minimum payments.
- c. The department shall post information on the payment plan on the Internet website established pursuant to section 5 of P.L.2015, c.102 (C.52:15D-7). Any information posted pursuant to this subsection shall include a link to the department's Language Access Plan for housing programs.

4. (New Section) a. If an over-disbursement is made to a Sandy-impacted low income or moderate income homeowner, as the equivalent terms are defined by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development, and the homeowner does not have sufficient income, assets, or resources to make payments, the homeowner may request to have some or all of the over-disbursement debt compromised. When the department determines that a low-tomoderate income Sandy-impacted homeowner does not have sufficient income, assets, or resources to make payments, the over-disbursement debt, except for any portion of the debt the debtor can pay through disposable assets, shall be compromised in whole or in part. In making this determination, the department shall evaluate a low-to-moderate income Sandy-impacted homeowner's assets, income, and reasonable living expenses to determine whether the homeowner can pay the debt. Reasonable living expenses shall include, but not be limited to, average utility costs for the last twelve months, housing, food, clothing, and other expenses set forth by the Internal Revenue Service

- for transportation, food, clothing, and out-of-pocket care costs. The low-to-moderate income Sandy-impacted homeowner shall provide the department with a copy of his most recent federal income tax return and a summary of his monthly expenses. When determining the ability of a low-to-moderate income Sandy-impacted homeowner to repay the debt, the department may consider the homeowner's age, health, financial hardship, and other extraordinary circumstances as determined by the commissioner. All proposed compromises involving special factors other than age or disability shall be approved by the commissioner.
 - b. The department shall notify a low-to-moderate income Sandy-impacted homeowner, by mail, when the commissioner has approved a partial or full compromise of the over-disbursement debt. If a partial compromise is granted, the letter shall explain to the Sandy-impacted homeowner that a partial compromise has been approved because the Sandy-impacted homeowner has provided evidence of an inability to pay the debt in full. The department shall offer the low-to-moderate income Sandy-impacted homeowner a 60-month payment plan to repay the amount due.
 - c. The department shall post information on a low-to-moderate income Sandy-impacted homeowner's eligibility for a compromise of the debt, and make debt compromise applications available, on the Internet website established pursuant to section 5 of P.L.2015, c.102 (C.52:15D-7). Any information posted pursuant to this subsection shall include a link to the department's Language Access Plan for housing programs.

- 5. (New Section) a. The department is authorized to waive the debt if: (1) the RREM or LMI funds were distributed based on an error made by the department; (2) there was no fault on the part of the debtor; and (3) the collection of the debt would be against equity and good conscience.
- b. The department shall not waive a debt under subsection a. of this section if the debt involves fraud, the presentation of a false claim, or misrepresentation by the debtor or any party having an interest in the claim.
- c. For the purposes of this section, "against equity and good conscience" means: (1) collection of the debt would cause serious financial hardship; (2) the debtor has spent the over-disbursement for the reason it was provided or other disaster related needs and has no present ability to reclaim the funds; (3) more than 36 months elapsed between the time assistance was awarded and the date "Notice of Over-Disbursement" was provided by the department in accordance with section 2 of P.L., c. (C.) (pending before the Legislature as this bill); and (4) any other personal circumstances exist that would make collection unconscionable.

- 1 6. (New Section) a. Any Sandy-impacted homeowner may 2 appeal, in writing to the commissioner, the department's determination 3 that a Sandy-impacted homeowner received an over-disbursement of 4 RREM or LMI funds. A Sandy-impacted homeowner may also 5 appeal, in writing to the commissioner, the department's determination that a Sandy-impacted homeowner is ineligible for a compromise or a 6 7 waiver of the over-disbursement debt. Any Sandy-impacted 8 homeowner who received an over-disbursement of RREM or LMI 9 funds and for whom a Final Grant Reconciliation Document has been 10 signed by the department or who has repaid an over-disbursement debt 11 either in whole or in part, may appeal the department's determination. 12 Appeals shall be filed with the commissioner in writing within 30 days 13 of the receipt of notice of an over-disbursement. If the appeal has been 14 decided in favor of the Sandy-impacted homeowner, the Sandy-15 impacted homeowner shall be entitled to a reimbursement of any over-16 disbursement payments in excess of the amount otherwise due 17 pursuant to a payment plan agreement, compromise, or waiver of the 18 debt pursuant to section 3 of P.L. , c. (C.) (pending before the 19 Legislature as this bill). Within 15 days of the filing of any appeal by 20 a Sandy-impacted homeowner, the department, shall provide that 21 homeowner with information about his or her appeal, including:
 - (1) the date on which a Sandy-impacted homeowner filed the appeal;
 - (2) a full explanation of the appeal process.
 - b. After filing an appeal of the department's determination, a Sandy-impacted homeowner shall be permitted to enter into a payment plan pursuant to section 4 of P.L. , c. (C.) (pending before the Legislature as the bill).
 - c. The department shall post information on the appeals process on the Internet website established pursuant to section 5 of P.L.2015, c.102 (C.52:15D-7).

9. The commissioner shall have 180 days following enactment to promulgate rules and regulations pursuant to the "Administrative Procedure Act," P.L.1968, c.410 (C.52:14B-1 et seq.), to effectuate the purposes of P.L., c. (C.) (pending before the Legislature as this bill).

10. This act shall take effect immediately, but shall remain inoperative until the adoption of the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to section 9 of P.L. , c. (C.) (pending before the Legislature as this bill).

STATEMENT

This bill establishes specific procedures to be used by the Department of Community Affairs (DCA) to recover overpayments of Community Disaster Block Grant-Disaster Recovery (CDBG-DR) funds awarded through the Reconstruction, Rehabilitation, Elevation and Mitigation Program (RREM) and the Low-to-Moderate Income Homeowner Rebuilding Program (LMI).

The bill requires DCA to notify a Sandy-impacted homeowner when it determines that the homeowner has received an overpayment of RREM or LMI funds, which must be repaid to the State. The notice must provide information about the type of debt owed; an accounting of all funds disbursed to the homeowner; an explanation of the homeowner's rights; information on how the homeowner may appeal DCA's determination; information on options for the repayment of debt; and information on any interest and penalties that may accrue if the debt is not paid within the period permitted by the bill.

Under the bill, DCA would provide a payment plan to all Sandy-impacted homeowners to repay any over-disbursement debt either in lump-sum or in 60 months, paying as much or as little as they choose per month, over the course of the repayment period until the debt is satisfied. At the end of 60 months, any remaining debt would be transferred to the Division of Revenue and Enterprise Services in the Department of Treasury.

In cases when over-disbursement was made to a Sandy-impacted, low income or moderate income homeowner, as the equivalent terms are defined by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development, and the homeowner does not have sufficient income, assets, or resources to make payments, the homeowner may request to have some or all of the over-disbursement debt compromised. In such a case, DCA would determine whether a low-to-moderate income Sandy-impacted homeowner does not have sufficient income, assets, or resources to make payments. If that determination is made, the over-disbursement debt, except for any portion of the debt the debtor can pay through disposable assets, would be compromised in whole or in part.

1 The bill provides that in making the determination, DCA would 2 evaluate the homeowner's assets, income, and reasonable living 3 expenses to determine whether the homeowner can pay the debt. 4 Additionally, when determining the ability of a low-to-moderate 5 income Sandy-impacted homeowner to repay the debt, DCA may 6 consider the homeowner's age, health, financial hardship, and other 7 extraordinary circumstances as determined by the Commissioner of 8 Community Affairs. 9 The bill also specifies that any Sandy-impacted homeowner who 10 received an over-disbursement of RREM or LMI funds, and for 11 whom a Final Grant Reconciliation Document has been signed by DCA or who has repaid an over-disbursement debt either in whole 12 13 or in part, may appeal the DCA's determination in writing. Finally, 14 the bill requires that information about the appeals process be 15 placed on DCA's Internet website.
