8 54A:9-7. Overpayment. (a) General. The director, within the 9 applicable period of limitations may credit an overpayment of income 10 tax against any liability in respect of any tax imposed by the tax law on 11 the person who made the overpayment, and the balance shall be 12 refunded by the comptroller out of the proceeds of the tax retained by 13 him for such general purpose. Any refund under this section shall be 14 made only upon the filing of a return and upon a certificate of the 15 director approved by the comptroller. The State Treasurer, as a 16 condition precedent to the approval of such a certificate, may examine 17 into the facts as disclosed by the return of the person who made the 18 overpayment and other information and data available in the files of 19 the director.

20 (b) Excessive withholding. If the amount allowable as a credit for 21 tax withheld from the taxpayer exceeds his tax to which the credit 22 relates, the excess shall be considered an overpayment.

23 (c) Overpayment by employer. If there has been an overpayment
24 of tax required to be deducted and withheld under N.J.S.54A:7-4,

STATEMENT

29

30 This bill compensates taxpayers who do not receive their gross
31 income tax refunds from the State Treasurer in a timely manner, by 32 increasing the interest the State must pay to a taxpayer from the prime 33 rate to three points more than the prime rate and by reducing the 34 period in which refunds may be made without the payment of interest 35 from six months to 90 days.

36 Under current law, a taxpayer owes penalty interest at the rate of 37 at least three percentage points above the prime rate for each day that 38 a gross income tax liability remains unpaid after its due date.
39 However, the State is not required to pay interest on tax refunds that 40 are mailed to taxpayers within six months after the taxpayer has 41 applied for a refund. If the State exceeds the six month limit it pays 42 interest at the prime rate, a rate at least three percentage points lower 43 than is required of a taxpayer making a late payment.

44 The Director of the Division of Taxation recently stated that for the 45 April 1995 gross income tax filings for tax year 1994 the Division of 46 Taxation intentionally processed income tax payments quickly but

1 "pushed aside the refunds. That's smart business." To ensure the fair 2 treatment of taxpayers, and to assist tax administrators in 3 distinguishing between sharp business practices and the duty of public 4 employees to equitably administer the laws, this bill makes the interest 5 rate paid by the State on delayed gross income tax refunds identical to 6 the minimum interest rate taxpayers would be required to pay on late 7 tax payments.
